MARION CENTER
JOINT HIGH SCHOOL

In ancient times it was believed that the earth was the center of the solar system. Of course, today we realize that the sun holds this key position with the nine planets revolving around it. To a space scientist or rocket engineer the exploration of the solar system is the goal for which he is striving. But to us at Marion Center the solar system is comparable to our own high school. The administration and faculty provide a guiding light to keep the students on the right path, just as the sun holds the planets in their orbits. In reality we are only a minute particle in our solar system, but to each of us has been given the responsibility and challenge to press onward. We must move from planet to planet in the solar system of our school and of our lives until we reach our goal.

THEME

The sun, center of our solar system, is the nucleus of solar activity. As the planets revolve around our sun, so the administration is the axis of all school activities. We are very fortunate at Marion Center to have a devoted and experienced administration and teaching staff to help us arrive at our decisions and to guide us in these most important years. These counselors are the nerve center of our school.

High School days are wonderful days of ever changing and broadening experiences, through which we are learning to think and act more independently, moving ever closer to the time we will stand for ourselves, and make our own place in the world. There are all kinds of classes without end, books, books, and more books to read and study; teachers who demand our best efforts; impossible jobs which somehow we find we can do; parties and activities and games; work and fun; and friendships for a lifetime.

Through these classes, activities and sports we build body, mind, and character. We strengthen and extend basic learnings. We see more clearly our heritage of freedom, grow in love of country, and understanding of citizenship. Job opportunities beckon through Business, Homemaking, and Agriculture. Guidance helps us to know our talents and how to develop them. Mathematics and Science challenge us with their break through into a new world. Languages help us to understand our own. The library brings us the best of the past and present for personal improvement and pleasure. Music and the Arts open avenues for richer living and enjoyment.

High school experiences will be remembered and recalled with pleasure from time to time down through the years. How fortunate we are to have a faculty sponsor and student staff who have faithfully recorded in word and picture, between the covers of our CENTERAMA, the sparkling days of the high school years! The many times its pages will be turned will be a token of our appreciation.

Our School Emblem

Our school emblem shows a view of the high school within an outline of the Marion Center Jointure. Just as the sketch of the school ties the emblem together, so the high school brings together all parts of the jointure as the students converge for classes.

We wish to thank Mr. Bain Palmer, Jr., our art instructor, and art advisor to CENTERAMA, for designing this emblem.

The planets of the solar system each depend directly on the sun for guidance to hold them in their proper courses. As we travel further from the sun, this attraction and influence still prevails, but grows somewhat weaker. In comparison the underclassmen facing the modern space age world each depend on the teachers and administrators for guidance in their future paths. As they make each step toward graduation this influence gradually lessens.

Something new in Mrs. Montgomery's junior English class this year was the laboratory period. She set one period a week aside for work with the individual students. Each student had at least one conference with her each six weeks period. These individual meetings enabled Mrs. Montgomery to help the students with their individual problems.

In this picture, Mrs. Montgomery is discussing Eileen Hamill's theme with her. Mrs. Montgomery is sitting at her desk, and Eileen is standing and talking to her.

Around The School

CHIEF OF GRADE SENIOR CLASS PROCEED, speaks to the student body of our school. The purpose of the assembly is to show the students the importance of the school, as well as refreshment center practices and traditions in the hands of the student body.

This is a scene from the French stage restaurant which the French class has set up at the P.T.A. Fair. Along with the French atmosphere, delicious French pastries were served. The profits from this went to the P.T.A.

This is a scene from the Christmas party which was held at the school. The members of the choir were singing to the students with great enjoyment and enthusiasm.

After receiving an invitation to the Governor's inaugural parade at Harrisburg, our own put forth hours of practice for the occasion.

In our solar system there are bodies other than the planets which orbit the sun. Some of these objects are comets that appear regularly and attract the world's attention at that particular time. These speeding objects are suggestive of the various sports in our school and the students that participate in them. These athletes and the sports they play in also appear seasonally to represent our school and to entertain our sports fans.

SPORTS

The members of the All-Stars are:
Ron Marshall, Terry Miloser, John
Haldin, Garry Dixon, Dick Forsythe,
Bill Williams, Tom Marshall, Tom
Dixon, and Mr. Williams, coach.

One of the contributing factors to this year's successful basketball season was our great team defense. Here the Stingers are shown in a defense set-up against Tom Dixon wrestles for control of the ball as an unidentified player from Laura Lamar vaults over him.

At the whistle, Tom Marshall, a center, soars upward to get the tip-off and starts this game in our favor.

Action Action Action

Bill Williams is shown here in one of his famous drives as he races up the court to score.

Offense

Bill Work, one of the outstanding J.V. players, is shown rising toward the basket area in an unsuccessful attempt in an effort to score for Marion Center.

This year at the state track meet, Frank Leone represented our school in the shot put and the discus. Frank took first in the shot with a record throw of fifty-four feet, six inches and took fifth in the discus.

The 1965 track squad consisted of Loren Koltz, Bob McColland, John Mizernik, George Swanick, Larry Steinman, John Tappert, Gregory Shoenley, Roger Griffith, Alvin Green, Robert Fane, Richard Coleman, George Fox, Louis Yanni, Edward Bedeck, Frank Leone, Doyle Fairman, Ronald Marshall, Ed Lewis, Ron Gross, Art Kestlar, Jim Fisher, Tom Marshall, and Tom Dixon. The coaches were Robert Taft and Marlin Ressler.

These girls are members of the Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. They were present at a game and were cheering our boys on to victory. The J.V. cheerleaders are: Front Row Left: Loretta, Fern, Nita, and Betty Altman, Bonnie Harvey. Second Row: Jan, Daisy, Frances Miriam, Maurine, Zeina, and Leah. The Varsity cheerleaders are: Third Row: Ann, Arlene, Elizabeth, and Ruth, Rose, Bernice. Fourth Row: Cary, Mable, and Burns, Fern, and Fern, and Irene, and Josky. Dick Swick was present when picture was taken.

Congratulations

The food for the sports party was prepared over a charcoal grill as is shown in this picture. Mrs. Shaw, one of the sponsors, is assisted by Carol M. Cook, Irene Kowalsky, Joe Kovach, and Evelyn Brady.

Part of the entertainment provided at the party consisted of games in which all could participate. Basketball, volleyball, and softball were all enjoyed.

Awards for underclassmen in sports are also presented at the sports party. Mr. Taft, track coach, is awarding letters to several track men as Mr. Hessler, assistant coach, looks on.

Being physically fit rates highly, and this class is no exception. These girls, under the supervision of Mrs. Receski, are part of a health club at the school.

Precision

After spending six weeks on learning the basic steps of the dance, the students went on to learn more complex poses such as the one shown by these girls. Left to right: Mary Baker, Jane Bragg, Betty Lohmeyer. Standing: Esther Ceram.

Our solar system contains moons which encompass the various planets in a way similar to the planets orbiting the sun. These moons are directly dependent on the planets and their actions are controlled by them. Usually, the larger a planet is, the more moons it has. In a like manner each of the many organizations has been formed by a group and is controlled by it, with the oldest and most dominant group having the most influence.

ACTIVITIES

Officers

Student Government

These Student Council representatives, Roberta Helman, Paul Sakach, and Marvin Watson, are taking with their sponsor, Mr. Lingenfelter, while looking at weekly meeting.

The officers of the 1962-1963 Student Council are Beverly Baun, treasurer; Marvin Baun, president; Roberta Helman, vice president; and Jo Ann Pino, secretary.

In this picture, the officers are polishing apples which the council presented to the teachers on Teacher Appreciation Day.

Scholarship

The National Honor Society officers for this school term are Betty Zias, treasurer, and Evelyn Bracy, president.

Ginger Feather, vice president, and Rosalyn Bernard, secretary.

To raise money for the pins for junior members, the Honor Society sponsored candy sales. Janet Orr, Rosalyn Bernard, and Evelyn Bracy are taking the bags of candy to the ticket booth for sale.

Service

Three men were of the Junior High class at the school for the Veterans' Day. There was only one of them who was not in the class this year.

The officers of the seventh grade Tri-Hi-Y, Linda Peiffer, secretary; Cheryl States, president; Jane Shank, chaplain and Lois Steffy, vice president, are being installed by their sponsor, Mrs. Pauch. Elaine Oberlin, treasurer, was absent when picture was taken.

Organizations

Suzanne Lewis, Elaine Oberlin, and Debby Nichol show plastic toys they have made to Miss Black, seventh grade Tri-Hi-Y sponsor. The toys are to be given to the Willard Home.

Seekers Of The Truth

The group of the Physics and Chemistry students, under the guidance of Mr. J. H. Fisher, are looking at a model of a cell. The model is made of cardboard and is a representation of a cell. The students are looking at the model with interest and are discussing it. The teacher is also looking at the model and is explaining it to the students.

A few members of the Science Club are looking at the other model made properly by the Science Club.

Flash

The camera club, sponsored by Mr. Goss, has been of service to the yearbook staff. It is their duty to take, develop, and print the photographs requested by the CINDERELLA staff.

Three camera club members, Chuck Fick, John Mizerak, and Rick Light-up are examining negatives recently developed by the club.

Helen Bernart, Cheryl Davis, and Rosalie Bernard are filing negatives. A careful record of each photograph is kept for future use.

By-Lines

Mr. Miller, faculty adviser to the YIT-YT, is explaining the location of the newspaper to Sandy Brock, Brian Farnon, and Patty Phelan, members of the newspaper staff.

These artists, Alan Allen, Ashton Linda Doyle, and Carol Chaswell, are completing sketches for the edition of the paper.

The co-editors of the school paper, Jane Ahrady, Karen Wiggins, and Carol Myers, are checking news stories for the usual five W's.

Headlines

Members of the yearbook staff are performing the various duties necessary to produce the school annual.

Rosalie Bernard, CENTRAMA editor, is packing up complete pages of the year book to be sent to the printers.

Nurses of tomorrow

Judy Yackuboskey and Kathy Letso, two members of the Future Nurses Club, return from a drive the club sponsored to assist in collecting money for the Heart Fund.

Judy Fairman, Beverly Fordyce, and Eleanor Raymond are helping Mrs. Bush prepare goods for a bake sale. It was sponsored by Future Nurses to raise money for their club.

Teachers of Tomorrow

The officers of the College Club are explaining a plan that may prove valuable to them, and other members of their club in planning their future. Left to right: Jim [unclear] secretary, Dan Cherry, president, and [unclear] Piernick, vice president, and Barbara Baun, treasurer.

The Future Teachers of America learn about teaching methods in elementary schools as they go to observe classes within the district. Darlene Helman, Roberta Helman, Jean Keith, and Emma Jean Kanarr return from observing a class in Plumville.

Research

Concentration

The instant shifting places in Senior Chess Club requires a war with an exchange leaves. Therefore it is being rearranged by a defender in Dave Wells while Mr. Hoyer, a visitor, looks on.

Members of Senior Chess Club play experimental matches among themselves for top honors in their year. Here John Ben Elkin and Roger Fairman, two members of the Junior Chess Club, have the art of playing chess in Junior high. Members of this club may join Senior Chess Club when they enter senior high.

George and Dan Cherry play while Dave Wells kibitzes.

and Loren Foltz. Third Row: Jon Gress, Jim Thomas, Gary Dixon, Frank Taccone, Tom Marshall, Louis Yanni, Tom Dixon, and Mr. Pompella, sponsor. Other club members whose pictures were not available are Doyle Fairman, Fred Fairman, Bob Fairman, and Bill Polito.

Basketball is an amusing sport, but it turns hilarious when played off the back of a slow-moving, unconcerned animal. This struggle for the ball is between members of the varsity club and the senior ag boys.

Creativity!

For the students interested in art we have an elective art class which offers anything from oil painting to basket weaving. In this photo Alice Vuyk is hooking a rug which should become useful in future years.

Backstage lights...curtains...

One of the many jobs performed by the Projectionist Club is the operation of the stage lights. Paul Beatty and Arthur Conatti are instructing Alvin Greene in the use of these lights.

Beatrice King and her sister are leaving for a county F.H.A. meeting at Laura Lister High School.

This scene from the annual six show sponsored by the F.H.A. shows Mary Herbert and Ann M. Jones matching their gowns as they dance with Jimmy Stacks and Ted Williams.

Homemakers

Sprinkle, Vice President; Mary Lou Sherman, Reporter; and Betty Lenzman, President.

This illustrative scene was at Marian Center on Junior High F.H.A. Initiation Day last fall. The members being initiated were required to wear old clothing and pay fines if caught talking to boys. Ron Fisher attempts to persuade Suzanne Nastase to violate the initiation rules.

The Junior High F.H.A. girls assembled morning kits to be distributed to each home room. At work are Idune Wells, Judy Eakin, Nancy Schultz, Cheryl Edwards and Susan Cherry.

Of Tomorrow

Furman, reporter; Idune Wells, president; Candy Thomas, secretary; and Karen Boarts, treasurer.

Learn Now

At Marion Center this year these boys were presented with the Keystone Award. This award is the highest the state gives and for the first time three boys received it in one year. Left to right: John Gaston, Mr. Steffy, and Edward Avery and Larry Ackerson.

This year at the F. I. A. State Activities Week held at State College, Indiana, our chapter was represented by this group of boys. Each of them an award for excelling in his particular field. Front Row: Left to

Apply In The Future

These members of the Young Farmers class are determining the type of soil each of their fields has by using soil maps, the loans to them by the Pennsylvania State College. The maps they are using were prepared in cooperation with the Indiana thirty & 1/2 tons of hay in the barns and we have as a part of the farm and produce records a lot of night Mr Cook, a driver, Eric Gahagan, a young girl and writer Gifford, Kenneth Cook, and Eugene Thompson

Eugene Thompson, president of the Young Adult Farmers' Bankers over saw material concerning his organization. Mr. Cook, the actor, works with him.

Modern farming calls for more than up-to-date methods and farm equipment. Here a group of farmers under Mr. Cook's instruction are using chain machines to determine statistics.

"Six Stitches For Ego."

In this scene, Barry Zias (Dr. Bell) observes some of the members of his adult class performing in a psychomotor drama which is supposed to bring out hidden fears

The Mixed Chorus is a vocal group in our school, which is made up of senior high students. Practices are held Monday and Thursday during the fifth period.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Love, they performed at the annual Christmas program, the Spring Concert, and Vespers as well as various other assemblies during the school year.

The Junior Chorus is chosen from the junior high school students. Under the direction of Mrs. Edwards, they spend hours practicing for their performance in the Spring Concert which is held each year.

This chorus provides a background in music and an experience in performing in such a group which will help them to prepare for senior high choruses.

The girls' chorus is composed of girls in tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade. They perform at a variety of school functions which include the Spring Concert and the Christmas Program.

With A Song In Their Hearts

In the school year of 1959-60, the girls' trio was organized. Since then they have performed in many assemblies and special programs including the Spring Concert.

Music Music Music

Mr. Robert Seibert, director of Cadet Band.

Cadet Band, comprised of younger instrument players, is essential as a preparatory step for the training of senior band members. It took part this spring in the Elementary Concert, and presented its version of "Telstar" and "Bossa Nova," two current popular songs. This year, the band is under the instruction of Mr. Robert Seibert, a new faculty member.

AD BAND

The Beat of A March

These girls, who have mastered the art of baton twirling, contribute greatly to the showmanship of our band. The Senior Band Majorettes are, KNEELING: Norma Sebring, Judy Caylor, Sandra McAfoos, captain; Janis Say, and Lois Carhart. STANDING: Beverly Shick, Helen Hastings, Ronna McMillen, and Diane Reed.

SENIOR MARCHING BAND

The Senior Marching Band presented our school with many happy, lasting memories for the 1962-63 school year. It captivated the attention of many as its members performed with intricate precision at its many appearances. As usual, they were at the Indiana College Homecoming Parade, and various small holiday parades, taking second prize at the 150th anniversary of Ford City. The most prominent and exciting event of the season was the Governor's inauguration parade in Harrisburg to which they were invited in January.

And The Raised Baton

Mr. Frank Koziel, director of Senior Concert Band

The Senior Concert Band, directed by Mr. Frank Koziel, is a major musical organization of our school. In the hands of its able conductor it performed in the Christmas Program, various pep assemblies, and at the Republican rally held in our gym. Another highlight of the year was the joint concert with the Saltsburg Band, which was given at our school and at Saltsburg.

SENIOR CONCERT BAND

The Dance Band, a small group of instrumentalists, provides a more popular type of music when the need arises. Annually this group, directed by Mr. Koziel, is called upon to perform for special events and occasions. This year the band played for the Cancer Drive, the senior play, and at various dances.

As we travel away from the sun and past the various planets, we find ourselves in the vast emptiness of space. In all directions are paths that may be taken. This is symbolic of the seniors who are leaving school and are preparing to enter the modern world that faces them. Today a great variety of opportunities are available for our graduates.

SENIORS

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

The senior Class officers are seen admiring their newly-acquired diplomas. They are, from right, Janet Orr, secretary; Cynthia Anderson, treasurer; Charles Grant, president; and Sarah Beck, vice president.

The summer lights sift through the light oranges, yellows, pinks, and greens of the rose and peonies and fall over resting robes. The couples gaze around the sancti fane.

During a pause between dances, Tom Marshall, steps to introduce his bride to his friends at a nearby table.

A Success

The refreshments were delicious. Georgiana, Shir and Steve Papa sit back and relax after eating.

Royalty

KING, FRANK TACCONE

QUEEN, SANDY PARK

The most talked about social event of the school term came to a climax on May 17, 1963, with the Junior-Senior Prom. Surrounded by dreamy music and soft lights, many couples enjoyed the enchanted evening.

Young ladies with beautiful pastel gowns danced with their dates under a ceiling of draped crepe paper which carried out the theme of "Golden Gates to Happiness."

For weeks the juniors were planning the gala event. They worked diligently to earn money to finance the affair and to make it a success. Finally the committees met to complete the probable plans. About a week before the day arrived, the juniors began to decorate the enormous gymnasium. Soon it began to look like a magnificent ballroom - fit for royalty. Last minute preparations were completed on Friday and the effect was enchanting.

Around 9:00 P.M. the first couples began entering the golden ballroom. They danced to the dreamy music of the Ken Maurey orchestra.

The highlight of the evening came with the coronation of the King and Queen. Five couples were nominated by the Junior Class and the royalty would be selected from these. The couple chosen was Queen, Sandy Park and King, Frank Taccone. Members of the court included Dianna Burns, Elizabeth Carhart, Cherie Davis, Betty Lemmon, Charles Grant, Tom Marshall, Paul Sakach, and Pete Sakach. After the impressive ceremony the royal couple and court led off the next dance.

Despite the constant downpour of rain, everyone had an enjoyable time. Those who attended the Junior-Senior Prom will long remember, "Golden Gates to Happiness."

Final Assembly

Yearbook members receiving awards from Mrs. Montgomery are Cherice

Davis, Rosalyn Bernier, Margaret Fairman, and Barry Lass.

Roberta Holman and Carolyn Thernick received awards for writing poems which were accepted by the National Poetry Association for publication in their annual anthology.

Mrs. Wagner, assisted by Shirley Barr presents F. H. A. awards.

"Five Smooth Stones"

The Mixed Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Jo Anne Love presented the music for the Vesper Service.

The pastors who participated in the Vesper Service were Rev. Leonard H. Pearson, Rev. Douglas M. Carhart, Rev. J. K. Boston, and Rev. Roy R. Biddle. Pictured with the pastors are Mr. Lingenfelter, high school principal, and Mr. McCrory, supervising principal. The seniors listened with interest to Rev. Carhart's sermon explaining the "five smooth stones" necessary for their future success: courage, honor, cheer, endurance, and faith.

"Convictions For

The speaker for the forty-sixth annual commencement was Donald V. Hicks, chairman for the program. The title of his speech,

The Address of Welcome was made by the president of the class, Charles Grant.
